OEIRICH'S WIDOW.

Declared Her Will to Break His.

Breezy Marie Dressler Talks Entertainingly of Her Friend and Guest.

Says Fair's Daughter Endured a Lot, but, Then, She Loved Her Husband.

"Money Doesn't Bring Happiness," Says the Actress. Harlem Flat Might.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

HICAGO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Theresa Fair Oelrichs, accompanied by her 12-year old son, is on her way to San Francisco to break the will of her husband, Herman Oelrichs, who died on the ocean liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse last week.

This fact became definitely known today, in an interview given by Marie Dressler, the vaudeville artist, now appearing at the Grand Opera-house. Miss Dressler was with Mrs. Oelrichs during the entire time of the latter's stay in the city.

"Tessie has gone to San Francisco for the purpose of breaking that will," declared Miss Dressler, "and you can just set it down that when Tessie Oelrichs makes up her mind to do anything she is going to do it."

HAD A LOT TO ENDURE. "What was the cause of trouble between Mr. and Mrs. Oelrichs?" Miss Dressler was asked.

"Oh, many things. Tessie had a lot to endure, and besides, she loved her husband. Why, it just broke my heart to see her in heavy widow's weeds. 'I'd just see myself wearing weeds for a man who treated me the way he treated her. But she does it on account of the boy, and then she did like him. Why, at the time of the San Francisco earthquake, I was with her all the time. We couldn't get any nothing is left but pieces of jewelry, guns, and some other personal effects. Oelrichs's secretary and his valet are remembered in his will.

LEFT HIS WIDOW NIL. OEIRICH'S GAVE SON LITTLE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "As my wife has an ample fortune of her own, I made no bequest or devise to her, as my son, Herman Oelrichs, Jr., is the heir and next of kin of my wife, and will doubtless be amply provided for by his mother in her last will and testament, or by the law in the event of her intestacy. I make no bequest or devise for him, other than the specific bequest contained in this will."

Thus, Hermann Oelrichs, who died at sea September 1, practically disinherited his widow, Theresa Oelrichs, and his young son by the terms of his will, which was filed today by the law firm of Jay & Chandler.

REQUESTS TO RELATIVES.

It was on June 11, last, on the eve of his departure for Europe in search of rest and health, that he executed the will in the presence of Col. Franklin Bartlett and Minnie L. Archer. The exact extent of the fortune of Oelrichs could not be ascertained, but in his will he specifically disposes of $492,000 in bequests to relatives.

His brother, Charles May Oelrichs, in addition to receiving a specific bequest of $300,000, is made residuary legatee and appointed sole executor, not being required to furnish any bonds. To his sister, Mrs. Lucy Jay, wife of Col. William Jay, was left $100,000.

MRS. OEIRICH'S STARTS.

It was reported, the day following the burial of her husband from her residence on East Fifty-seventh street, that Mrs. Oelrichs had suddenly departed from Newport for San Francisco, to look after her financial interests there. She is a daughter of the late Senator Fair, and has a very large fortune, being independent of her husband's means. As to the probability of a contest on the part of the widow or son for a share in the fortune of Oelrichs, nothing definite could be learned from those interested in the estate.

HIS BROTHER'S STORY.

The statement that Mrs. Oelrichs will contest my brother's will is as false as it is absurd," said Charles May Oelrichs today. "She is not going to San Francisco for any such purpose, nor has she gone there to find out anything about any mysterious woman. That is all pure fabrication. No such person exists, and now that the will has been filed, the public must

The real truth in this matter has been arranged for her trip to San Francisco before her return from abroad, and there was nothing sudden or unexpected about her going. She has gone there for a conference with James Phelan, her confidential agent."

JAPAN TO CONTROL PACIFIC TRAFFIC.

SUN FLAG WILL FLY OVER CELEBRATED PALACES AFLOAT.

Competition Between Companies Exciting Lively Interest, and Yokohama Shipping Men Are Positive That Brown Men Will Force Rivals Out of Business.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The competition for the trade of the Pacific between the various steamship companies is exciting lively interest in Japan and China. Shipping men here are positive in the belief that the Japanese companies will force competitors out of business. It is definitely understood that since the failure of the shipping subsidy bill in America, the Toyo Yusen Kaisha Company will buy the Pacific Mail Company. The fleet consists of the Mongolia, the Manchuria, the Korea, the Siberia and the China, all fine steamers of from 10,000 to 15,000 tons burden.

The sale of the Pacific Mail steamers will mean the practical disappearance of the American flag from the China seas. There will still be J. J. Hills two steamers, the Dakota and the Minnesota, trading to Seattle. It is uncertain how long before the Japanese government purchases these steamers also.

Practically the whole intercoastal trade of China and Japan is in the hands of the Japanese.

HER LATEST STEP EXPECTED.

Engagement of Mrs. Annie Armstrong Stewart to James Henry Smith Anticipated.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Mrs. Annie Armstrong Stewart, former wife of William Rhineland Stewart, to James Henry Smith, is not a surprise to New York society, all who knew them being fully prepared for such a step.

Mrs. Stewart's determination to sue for a divorce set the gossip talking and when she left this city for South Dakota eighteen months ago it was tacitly understood that the divorce gained, which was granted in August, a marriage soon would follow.

Her marriage to Stewart, which was celebrated in 1878, was considered a brilliant match for Miss Annie M. Armstrong, one of the belles of Baltimore. James Henry Smith, her fiancé, is a bachelor and is one of the richest men in the country.

LANGDON TO BOLT.

Hearstite Will Run "Regardless."

Democrats of Simon-Pure Brand Don't Want Him, but Prefer Phelan.

Bell Gains in Favor and Toland Is Liked for the Second Place.

R. M. Fitzgerald the Only "Slate" for Chairman. McCaffery Passes.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If James D. Phelan of San Francisco answers at this afternoon, he will be the Democratic nominee for Governor. Leaders of the party assembled here for the convention that opens tomorrow are, first, for Phelan, then for Theodore A. Bell, former Congressman from the Second District. Many delegates, on the belief that Phelan will decline positively, came out strong today for Bell.

Being on the ground, this young and handsome candidate really seemed to be the only one in the running. He would not announce himself positively, however, because State Senator Marshall Diggs of Marysville remains actively in the field, and has not yet manifested an inclination to get out of the way of Bell, who says he promised Diggs his support some time ago, and who, now urged for the place, is reluctant to get in the path of the illustrious Diggs.

SWAT AT HEARSTISM.

Hearstism and all its attendant flub-bub were given a hard swat today, by the delegates who arrived to find Hearst agents on every corner, boasting W. H. Langdon, City and County Attorney of San Francisco, as the party's choice.

Langdon was given a cold reception by the Democratic candidates. He found the Los Angeles county and every other responsible delegation opposed to a San Francisco invasion of the convention. He fanned the blaze of disapproval by announcing that if he were not nominated, he would not support the Democratic nominee. He said he would run on the Hearst ticket, whether the Democrats endorsed him or not.

Surprise is expressed at Langdon's stand, as he always has been considered a Democrat, and prior to his purported nomination by the Hearst rump convention, he was looked upon as a possible Democratic nominee.

M'NAB AND GEARY.

Gavin McNab, who controls 140 out of the 160 delegates from San Francisco, is unalterably opposed to Langdon. Former Congressman Geary and his many followers decry the attempt of Hearst to dishonor the party, and out of the 72 delegates to the convention, it is declared Langdon will have the support of less than 100.

PHELAN IN DEMAND.

Phelan apparently would carry the convention by storm if he were to permit the use of his name. It is urged, however, that his duties as chairman of the Finance Committee of the Disbursement of San Francisco Relief Funds call him more strongly than does his party, also that his own affairs, effected seriously by the disaster, need his attention. He would make a great personal sacrifice to enter the State campaign. He is away now on a short fishing trip. Telegrams have been sent in pursuit of him.

TOLAND FOR SECOND PLACE.

Theodore Bell's name has been one to conjure with today. As running mate is suggested Thomas Q. Toland of Ventura, a former railroad commissioner. Some delegates profess to believe that Bell would be stronger than Phelan in San Francisco. He certainly is the popular idol in Sacramento tonight, and if Phelan declines, and the expected withdrawal of the aspiring Master Diggs comes tomorrow, the young Napa county candidate may carry the convention with a whoop.

Los Angeles county's delegates whipped back and forth on minor something. Then, as only one-half of the delegation is here, it was decided to hold another caucus at midnight on the arrival of the remainder from the South. There was a boom for Earl Rogers for convention chairman, but he brushed aside the honor. Judge Trask also was mentioned for the place. He, too, waived it away.

ONLY ONE "SLATE" SHOWN.

The only semblance of a "slate" so far as seen in this gathering was in the announcement tonight, that R. M. Fitzgerald, an Alameda-county attorney, 1800, Littlefield's between 1200 and 1300; Burlingame's between 1200

LITTLEFIELD WINS DESPITE GOMPERS.

Triumph of the Republican Congressman and His Party in Maine in the Face of Strenuous Union Labor Opposition.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PORTLAND (Me.) Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Charles E. Littlefield, who was fought by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has approximately 1100 votes to spare over the Democratic nominee, in the result of today's election in the Second Congressional district.

Congressman Littlefield's candidacy was the subject of bitter opposition on the part of Gompers, who asked for his defeat on the ground that Littlefield had voted against labor measures at the last session of Congress.

The issue between Gompers and Littlefield was taken up by the Republican Congress Committee, and for three weeks the district has been the scene of a hard fight. In which Secretary of War Taft, Senator Lodge and Senator Beveridge and several Congressmen were pitted against the head of the Federation of Labor.

OTHER CONGRESSMEN.

Congressman Edwin C. Burlingame in the Third District and Llewellyn Miki Saito, who has been in Japan for several months, where it is understood, he has been discussing immigration matters for the imperial government, returned here today on the steamer Siberia. He reports that Japan intends next spring to erect a $100,000 consulate in Honolulu.

GOV. RE-ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Gov. William T. Cobb, who two years ago was elected by 26,816 plurality, will retain his office, but judging by the indication of returns at a late hour, covering 400 of 500 towns, his plurality in today's election will not exceed 7500. These figures are: Cobb 68,142; Davis (Dem.) 54,814. The same towns four years ago gave Hill (Rep.) 59,794 and Gould (Dem.) 55,432.

PROHIBITION PULLS THROUGH.

Cobb stood on a platform devoted to the prohibition of the sale of liquor, and his plurality of less than 8000 was, with few exceptions, the smallest margin of votes ever given a Republican Governor in the history of the party in this State. His issue in the campaign was the submission of the liquor question, which was incorporated in the State Constitution four years ago.

The Legislature will be Republican by a safe margin. An extraordinary feature of the election was the holding of prayer-meetings in two churches continuously throughout the day, at which prayers were offered that the voters might cast their ballots so that the rum element might be defeated and the Republican party be successful.

The meetings were held under the auspices of prohibitionists of the city, including Mrs. Lillian M. Stevens, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union.

SAYS GOMPERS HELPED HIM.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) PORTLAND, Sept. 10.—Congressman Littlefield, in a statement to the Associated Press, said: "At the election in 1904, Gov. Cobb carried the State by 27,500. Congressman Allen was elected by 681; Littlefield, 6391; Burlingame by 6883, and Powers by 8919. Cobb's plurality is now estimated at from 8000 to 10,000; Allen's, 1800; Littlefield's between 1200 and 1300; Burlingame's between 1200 and 1300, and Powers between 1200 and 1300. The result is due to the Sturgis Bill and resubmission. In my opinion, Samuel Gompers has helped me in my district.

"I had practically the only Congressional fight in the State, and it was the most vicious, bitter, and energetic for years."

At midnight Chairman Carter claimed that the Republicans would have 90 representatives in the Legislature out of a total membership of 151. He also claimed that 24 of the 31 Senators were Republicans.

NATIONAL HOME FOR EAGLES.

Hotel Man James Breen Eyes Broadway Property in Helena, and So Does the Order.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) HELENA (Mont.) Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is seemingly reliably stated, that the Broadway property in this city has been sold. James Breen, part owner in the Hotel Spokane, the Hotel Tacoma and several others, is reported to be the purchaser.

Breen was in the city a few days ago looking over his mining interests in this section. While here he consulted with Thomas A. Marlow, the manager of the estate of the late Charles A. Broadway. Breen also accompanied Marlow to the Hotel Broadway, and looked over the entire property with the care and precision that indicate the purchaser.

The construction of the magnificent hotel and the great natatorium, the largest enclosed swimming pool in the world, cost the late Col. Broadway several hundred thousand dollars. The price that Breen proposes to pay for the property cannot be learned, but it is understood to exceed $100,000. The Fraternal Order of Eagles has the property under consideration for a national home.

JAPAN TO ERECT CONSULATE.

HONOLULU, Sept. 4.—[Correspondence of the Associated Press.] Consul Miki Saito, who has been in Japan for several months, where it is understood, he has been discussing immigration matters for the imperial government, returned here today on the steamer Siberia. He reports that Japan intends next spring to erect a $100,000 consulate in Honolulu.

A NARCHY SEETHES.

Shameful Riots in San Francisco.

Union Mobs Assault Men Peacefully Endeavoring to Leave the City.

Frenzied Thugs Attack Newcomers and Police Offer No Assistance.

Strike Breakers Stoned and Robbed—Threats of Dynamiting.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rioting, drunkenness and disorder, reigning supreme, disgraced Admission Day in this city. Police stations and emergency hospitals were overcrowded and overworked, and bear records upon their books that should make the officials of any municipal government blush with shame.

Twenty-six Farley strike-breakers who had been paid off and were attempting to leave the city were attacked with stones, brickbats and pieces of paving blocks, beaten with fists and clubs, and in many cases robbed.

LAWLESSNESS RULES.

From 10 o'clock this morning until midnight, a mob, often numbering 2000 men, surrounded the car-barn and power-house of the United Railroads at the corner of Turk and Fillmore streets. Absolutely not one among the villainous ringleaders of the rioters was arrested. No attempt was made to disperse the turbulent throng, and lawlessness ruled the day unchecked.

Either the police department of this city did not want to preserve order and see that justice was done, or else the members of the police force were afraid of being attacked, as were four of the force last night.

ARRESTED FARLEY MEN.

At 10 o'clock tonight, a mob of thugs attempted to prevent Farley's men from boarding a ferryboat to leave the city. A squad of policemen responded to a riot call. The squad arrested fifteen Farley men, and booked them on suspicion of having been implicated in a shooting which took place at Turk and Fillmore streets during the three riots that occurred shortly after 6 o'clock. No arrests of the thugs were made.

Two riot calls were turned in during the afternoon, but in each case the patrol wagon returned to the police station with only Farley men placed under arrest, because they attempted to protect themselves with revolvers against the brutal attack of the mob.

HEARD THREATS TO KILL.

Officers of the law heard threats to "kill the scabs" openly made, but raised no hand against criminal declarations.

A Times reporter saw a Farleyite struck over the head with a bat in the hands of a union hard-core. A policeman stood within five feet of the assailant.

"Duck," he said, "or I'll have to jug you."

CANCER LIES DEEP.

Back of and underlying this disgusting, deplorable condition in San Francisco, demonstrated by the events of today, lies some vital cause, which like a fatal cancer is eating into the life of the city. The writer, a reporter of The Times, cannot attempt to point out the evil spot, he can only tell truthfully what he saw with his own eyes and heard with his own ears.

STRIKE-BREAKERS MOBBED.

He was awakened at 10 o'clock, this morning, by a distant roar of human voices.

FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

It is the aim of The Los Angeles Times:

To exploit and advance the best interests of the people of the fair and fertile land wherein it is published, and to which it steadily devotes its efforts;

To stand for liberty and law, equal rights and good government, the greatest boon to a free people;

To foster and encourage private and public enterprise, and hold up the hands of every honest toiler, either with brawn or brain, in every field of activity;

To stand independently for the true interests of the city, the State and the nation, and for those policies only which make for the common good;

It aims to be excellent and not cheap.

MCCLELLAN'S FIRST BLOW.

Knocks Out Tammany Man
From the Bronx.

New York's Mayor Lining Up for Jerome.

Littlefield Re-elected Despite Gompers's Hostility.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor McClellan lost no time today in emphasizing by deeds his announcement of a desire for the defeat of Charles F. Murphy and his followers at the primaries, next Tuesday, and his wish to have the 186 delegates to the Democratic State Convention in line for the nomination of William F. Jerome.

Mayor McClellan had been at his desk in the City Hall less than an hour when he announced that he had called for the resignation of George M. Walgrove, Commissioner of Parks, from the Bronx, and had appointed Joseph I. Berry to succeed him. Berry is the anti-Haffen, anti-Murphy candidate for Tammany leader of the thirty-fifth Assembly district.

In explaining this move, McClellan said that he had learned that the Park Commissioner of the Bronx had allowed his department to be used for political purposes and against the interests of his administration. This he cannot allow.

BRYAN NOT INFALLIBLE.
SHARP MAN IS SHARP.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
RICHMOND (Va.), Sept. 10.—The Times-Dispatch telegraphed to John Sharpe Williams, minority leader in Congress, at Yazoo City, Miss., for an expression of his views on Bryan's view of the plan for government ownership of railroads.

"I am opposed to government ownership of railroads, irreversibly and forever, and in the only and in practice—a question concerning which Mr. Bryan and I agree to disagree."

"I see no good to be attained by rushing into print on the subject. We will simply vote it down, if offered as a plank of the Democratic platform."

"Meanwhile, let us not magnify Democratic difficulties. There are so many things we are agreed upon—let us magnify these. Push to the front, if we can."

"Bryan is not infallible, and does not pretend to be. He is right about many things, eloquently and greatly right, but absolutely and altogether wrong about this one thing, especially the standpoint of racial peace and quiet in the South. Let us strongly regulate railroad rates, but not operate railroads."

JEROME WILL BE THERE.
HELL PROTECT HIS RIGHTS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to a morning paper from Lake Villa, Ill., says Dist. Atty. Jerome has decided to attend the Democratic State Convention at Buffalo, September 22.

"Yes, I'm going to the Buffalo convention," said Jerome, Sunday. "I am not going as a delegate, nor as an alternate, but as a man whose name has been mentioned as a candidate for the Governorship."

"My chief interest lies in the platform which the convention will put out. Too much of the past the platform of both the Republican and Democratic parties have had no significance. They have been and will continue to be a source of feeling for the sole purpose of picking up mere ragtag and bobtail votes."

"I have no desire to impose my ideas on the convention's platform plan but I have a right to say, if the convention should desire to nominate me, whether or not I am willing to run upon the platform to be adopted by the convention."

INDEPENDENCE LEAGUE.
DIVISION AS TO TICKET.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Delegates to the first State convention of the Independence League, of which Wm. R. Hearst is president, are arriving today in large numbers. Sixteen hundred delegates have been named to attend, and it is said every county in the State will be represented. The first session will be held at noon tomorrow.

On the subject of nominations, which are expected to be made Wednesday evening, there was much discussion among the delegates at the headquarters at the Glenside Hotel today. Some of these favored only the nomination of the head of the ticket, Hearst's name being the only one heard in this connection, leaving the remainder of the ticket to be named by the Executive Committee. These delegates were those who believed that of the regular Democrats who wish to join in the independent movement should be welcomed and given representation on the ticket. There were other delegates who voted the sentiment that the Independence League should nominate a straight independent ticket from first to last.

DENVER DEMOCRACY SPLIT.
PATTERSON FIGHTING SPEER.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
DENVER, Sept. 10.—The Democratic State Convention will meet in this city tomorrow to name a full State ticket and also nominate two candidates for the Supreme Court. Former Gov. Alva Adams has been indorsed by a number of county conventions for another term as Governor, and the Patterson wing of the local Democracy has also named him as their choice. County Judge Ben B. Lindsay, who is known nationally as the originator of the Juvenile Court, recently issued a statement announcing his candidacy for the Governorship, but prior to that time had proclaimed his choice of Alva Adams as the man whom the Democrats should select to lead their ticket.

Judge Lindsay has a strong following among the independent voters and also is well supported by a certain element in the Democratic party. He has been urged to permit his name to go before the convention tomorrow, but tonight the report is in circulation that he will not so agree and that Adams's nomination will be unanimous.

Locally there is a split in the party.

Mayor Robert W. Speer leading one faction, and United States Senator Thomas M. Patterson heading another. Each faction has chosen a full delegation to the State convention and a contest for seats will be fought bitterly. The Patterson people charge that the Speer faction, which is the regular organization, has lost caste by reason of their alleged subservience to the local public-utility corporation, but the Speer people will stand on their claim of being the regularly-organized Democracy of the city.

The platform, it is predicted, will deal with the action of the Supreme Court in its relation to the Adams-Peabody gubernatorial contest two years ago.

BRYAN AVOIDS "POLITICS."
NOW TALKS LABOR DISPUTES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
OMAHA (Nebr.), Sept. 10.—William J. Bryan spoke this afternoon at the carnival given at Krug Park under the auspices of the Central Labor Union. Bryan avoided politics, devoting his remarks to general labor topics. He took strong position in favor of arbitration of labor troubles and international disagreements.

Bryan left at 6:30 o'clock on the Wabash for St. Louis, where he is to be given a reception. From there he will go on a tour of some of the Southern States.

GILLETT REACHES HOME.
MET BY CITIZENS AND A BAND.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
BUREKA, Sept. 10.—Congressman J. N. Gillett, Republican nominee for Governor, arrived at his home here on the steamer Corona, this morning. He was met by a number of citizens and a band, on the steamer Antelope, which escorted the Corona up the bay. At the Hotel Vance, several speeches were made.

Mr. Gillett will be given a public reception during the week.

STAGE BEAUTY

TIN PLATE SHINES BRIGHTLY
FOR MRS. DANIEL G. REID.

Mabel Carrier Goss From the Footlights to the Home of the Millionaire Manufacturer and Railroad Magnate as His Wife, but the Date's a Secret.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another stage beauty has captured the heart of a millionaire and passed from the glare of the footlights to the quietude of domestic life. This time it is Miss Mabel Carrier, who is now the wife of Daniel G. Reid, the tin-plate and railroad magnate. Reid's wealth is estimated at between $25,000,000 and $40,000,000.

No formal announcement has been made by Reid of his marriage, and the date on which the ceremony was performed has not been made public.

The new Mrs. Reid is about 23 years old, and was born in Detroit. She is tall and statuesque, and strikingly handsome. Her stage career has been brief, her first engagement being a minor part in "A Chinese Honeymoon," last year.

In "The Runaways," and her last engagement was the "West Point Cadet," which had a short life at the Princess Theater in New York.

Reid is 45 years old, and has been married twice before.

Lumbermen in Macon, Ga., in conference, declare that the ruling out of short-leaf pine lumber in Northern and Eastern cities caused millions of feet of lumber to be piled in those cities unsalable even at $2 and $3 a hundred feet under regular prices.

As a consequence at least 100,000 cords of lumber in Georgia, Alabama and Florida are affected, many of which will be closed until there is a revocation of the ruling.

TRUST BANK PLANS
STRIKE BOND SNAG.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mortgage bonds of street railway companies and of industrial concerns placed with the Real Estate Trust Company by Richard P. Loper and other promoters caused a hitch today in the plan for reorganization of the institution.

It was learned at a meeting of the directors that no examination had been made of these securities for which the trust company had acted as trustee. They will be studied tomorrow and if it is found that no loss has come to the company through them, the plan as framed by George H. Earle Jr., the recorder of the company, and approved by his counsel, John G. Johnson, will be approved formally at tomorrow's meeting of the directors. The amount of the bonds floated by Loper with the institution aggregated $2,500,000.

Further evidence was found of Hipple's crooked inventiveness when the juggling of the stock of the International Match Company was exposed. A new $45,000 note of dubious value was discovered, and investigation showed an absence of mortgages valued at $25,000 from the safe deposit box of the Christian Detrey estate of which Hipple was executor.

Depositors and their attorneys gave unqualified approval to the Earle plans for reorganization.

HIPPLE'S INSURANCE SMALL.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 10.—Contrary to the general belief Frank K. Hipple, the suicide president of the wrecked real estate Trust Company, carried only a small amount of life insurance. This became known today when counsel for the Hipple family announced that policies for a total of only $7500 on the life of Hipple have been found.

The experts who are investigating the affairs of the trust company are examining securities for trust funds in the care of the institution. These trusts aggregate more than $25,000,000 and there is considerable anxiety for beneficiaries of these funds over their safety. Up to this time there has been only a hasty examination of the securities and with the exception of about $50,000 they were found practically intact.

ROOSEVELT CUP RACE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
MARKLEHEAD (Mass.), Sept. 10.—The Vim won today's race, and Commodore T. L. Park of the American Yacht Club of New York becomes the owner of the Roosevelt Cup, presented by the Eastern Yacht Club for the international yacht race between the American and German yachts. The Vim finished the race at 1:32:30, in a drive fog. The American boat Auk was second and the German yacht Wannease last.

A heavy fog set in shortly after the preparatory signal was sounded and caused a postponement of the start.

When the fog lifted, the yachts were sent away, the start being at 1:40 p.m. At 1:45 the Auk had established a good lead. The wind had dropped to about four miles an hour. Later, however, by close sailing, the Vim reached first position and rounded the first

HE ACKNOWLEDGED SITUATE WOMAN AS HIS WIFE.

Brother and Sister of Publisher Will Cassier Claim to Breaking His Will on This Fact—Will Also Claim Second Will Exists—Much Life Insurance Missing.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BOSTON, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The brother and half-sister of Louis Cassier, the dead publisher, will base their claims to breaking his will, leaving a half-million-dollar fortune to an alleged second wife, Agnes Nichols Cassier, of Trumbull, Ct., on the fact that Cassier acknowledged a second wife, Gertrude Spooner, of Scituate, Mass., as his common-law wife at many times and places in New York and Brooklyn before the New York marriage law of 1907 went into effect.

They will also claim that a second will exists and claim part of the estate as collateral heirs, but their principal fight will be to secure justice for the first wife, whom he put away. They allege that Agnes Nichols is not legally his wife, if indeed she has any claim.

Although Cassier is known to have held a large amount of insurance on his life, the greater part of this is mysteriously missing.

Mrs. Agnes Nichols Cassier still retains possession of the fine residence at Trumbull.

CROWDS IN LIMA'S STREETS.

American Statesman's Visit Occasion for Demonstration of Friendship for His Country—Traveler Has Long Chat With President Pardo and is Entertained at Dinner.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
LIMA (Peru) Sept. 10.—Elihu Root, American Secretary of State, and his party who arrived at Callao about noon today, were brought immediately to Lima. Mr. Root dined in President Pardo's carriage and being accompanied by the Mayor of this city. The streets through which the party was escorted from the station to the Town Hall were lined with crowds, who cheered enthusiastically.

Arriving at the Town Hall, Mr. Root visited the council room, where the members of the City Council and a number of the public were present to greet him. A military band played "The Star-Spangled Banner" in honor of the American.

The meeting in the Council room was opened with a speech of welcome by the Mayor of Lima. The Mayor then fixed upon the breasts of Mr. Root and his party gold badges upon which are stamped the arms of the city of Lima.

Afterward, Secretary Root and party visited President Pardo, with whom Mr. Root had a long chat. They also visited foreign minister Pardo.

At the residence which has been assigned for the use of Mr. Root and his party during their stay here, President Pardo returned the visit of Mr. Root. Secretary Root was entertained to lunch at a dinner at the President's mansion.

Four batteries opened fire down Plenkna, Warsaw and Aleina streets, which were inhabited by thousands of Jews. The destruction was horrible.

As a result of the general slaughter, it is estimated that fully 200 Jews have been killed and 1000 wounded. There are 3000 prisoners in custody, a great many of whom were wounded.

Not a soldier was killed. This morning squads of soldiers were parading through the streets, selling damaged watches and jewelry. The army officers openly countenanced the looting of loot.

The local Governor took no steps to prevent the looting.

PREVENT REPORTS LEAKING.
To prevent reports of the outrages being sent out, the telegraph offices are closed, and no persons are allowed to leave the town. The refugees continue to crowd the stations.

The soldiers are drunk and behaving with extraordinary brutality. A delegation of citizens asked the Governor to order the troops to cease firing, but the Governor replied that the citizens must deliver up their leaders and the revolutionaries, or otherwise the city would be bombarded.

The authorities assert that fifteen Terrorists have arrived here from Warsaw, and that the Terrorists had fired on the soldiers. The sound of the big guns sent a number of women into a state of hysterical fear.

Over 100 Jewish shops were looted. Christians escaped the massacre by hanging holy images and crosses in their windows.

Most of the prisoners arrested are Jews, and they were beaten by the mob.

The Jews of Warsaw are in fear of attack.

COUNT VICTIMS BY HUNDREDS.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
BERLIN, Sept. 10.—Bands of strangers, ostensibly soldiers on furlough, took a most active part with the soldiers.

At one stage of the fighting, the Jews succeeded in driving the soldiers back.

After the list of winners had been made up by the statistical officer, Sergt. De Loach of the U. S. M. C., whose score had been protested, made another skirmish run. He made 38 points and with 21 he had on the other ranges it placed him in eighth place with an aggregate of 228.

New Fall Style Boys' Clothing

--- FOR SCHOOL WEAR ---
Only a few days more and school begins. We want to talk to mothers about our Boys' Clothing. The honesty and reliability of our Clothing is not in the claim we make, but in the experience of our many customers who have purchased from us season after season. The continued success in this department has made it necessary to add to our present building, and when completed will give us the largest exclusive Boys' Department on the Coast. Announcement of opening will appear soon.

Novelty Suits
For the little fellows from 3 1/2 years to 5. Buster Brown, Russian Cadet, in plain blues, browns, serges, velvets, fancy checks and plaids. Price $2.50 to $10.00.

Norfolk Suits
In this line for boys from 6 years to 16 years we show several models. Coats with belt plain or pleated, pants knicker or straight, and some with two pairs pants. The range of fabrics embraces fancy grays, velours, novelty goods, etc. Price $4 to $15.

Double Breasted Jacket and Pants Suits
This line appeals to the boy who likes plain coat and straight pants, and our showing is greater than any previous season. Grays, plaids, velours and fancy mixtures in age 7 years to 16. Price $2.50 to $15.00.

Youths' Suits
We have made a special effort in this line, and have brought together the greatest makes and models ever shown. We can fit youth of any size and have added the stub style for small men. These range from 13 years to 19. Come single or double breasted from $5.50 to $25.00.

Cravenette and Overcoats
Just a word to say we carry special lines in school size, 6 years to 14, in rainproof fabrics; also fine showing in the larger sizes, 14 to 20. Price $5.00 to $20.00.

Furnishings and Hats
These departments are complete in every detail. Any known fixing for boys can be had and the lines of blouses, shirts, underwear, hats and caps, comprise all that is new for the season.

JEWS MASSACRED ACCORDING TO PLAN.

Russian Soldiers, at Instigation of Superiors and by Connivance of the Government Officials, Slaughter Hundred of Hebrews at Siedlce.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)
SIEDLCE, Sept. 10.—A Jewish massacre surpassing in seriousness all previous ones in this vicinity took place here Saturday and Sunday.

The massacre was carefully planned beforehand, the soldiers warning all the Christian populace to hang out their ikons, so that they might remain undisturbed.

Saturday night some Terrorists killed two soldiers, and thereupon the Libau Regiment broke forth in unrestrained fury. The soldiers began murdering Jews on every street, and continued the work of slaughter all Saturday night and all day Sunday.

The ghastly work of murdering and pillaging continued until early this morning, when Gov.-Gen. Sklonoski telegraphed for permission to use the artillery.

The trouble began in Plenkna street and spread rapidly to a large portion of the town.

All the Jewish shops have been looted. Owners who defended the property were killed or wounded.

Chinese characters, engraved and jeweled at $7 to $100. Beautiful gold filled bracelets with Chinese characters, $5.50 and $6.00.

OWL CARS RUN THIS MORNING.
PASSENGERS ARE PRACTICALLY ALL OF STERNER SEX.

New Transit Move is Inaugurated Auspiciously and Provides Traveling Convenience for Many Who Work During Night Hours—Lends Lively Air to Streets.

Owl cars started for residence sections of Los Angeles at 1 and 2 o'clock this morning. Streets after those hours bore an unusually deserted appearance and business district pedestrians missed the old-time crowd of late stayers, made night owls by force of circumstances.

Patronage was not heavy. On the average there were perhaps eight or ten passengers to each of the 1 o'clock cars. But in the aggregate a goodly number were carried to their homes.

The passengers were practically all men. Many of these were those who had lingered after midnight in cafes and saloons. But there were also many whom business and work detained downtown.

The patronage of 2 o'clock cars did not seem to have fallen off in the slightest, and the usual number of after-theater groups took those leaving shortly after 11 o'clock.

The men who rode in the new owl cars were those who would otherwise have walked or stayed in the business district until early morning.

The departure of the Owls from downtown corners lent for the time being an air of unusual liveliness to the city.

PIERCE FEELS COURT'S POWER

HEAD OF OIL COMPANY ARRESTED IN ST. LOUIS.

After Months of Dodging to Avoid Summons in Personal Case, He is Landed by the Sheriff's Deputy. Later He Appears Before Judge Anthony to Testify.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. Clay Pierce, who had for some time evaded subpoena servers and was again on the run, was arrested Sunday morning, marched to the court house and held in custody for nearly an hour before being released on the bond of his attorney, former Judge Pierce. From the Sheriff's office Pierce was taken before C. R. Allen, commissioner of the St. Louis Circuit Court, who had issued the attachment. The case upon which the attachment was issued is a suit brought against the oil company by John P. Gruet, former secretary for the company.

After his arrest, Pierce went voluntarily to the hearing of the State's case before Judge R. A. Anderson, in the Supreme Court Building, where he appeared before Judge Anderson as a witness in the case against the Standard Oil Company, and the Standard Oil Company's personal counsel, conducted the examination.

Pierce described the forming of the Standard Oil Company, and stated that in 1900, the business of the company had flourished.

"About that time," said Pierce, "an experienced agent of the company in the Standard Oil Company, which was located in our being ousted from that position."

"I took the matter up with the Texas state and was frankly informed that no oil company controlled business according to its methods would be tolerated in that State."

"After the reorganization in 1900, under the name of the Standard Oil Company, we made no attempt to interfere with the business of the Standard Oil Company. A. A. Anderson, the Standard Oil Company, transferred to me the 2745 shares of stock which I had in my possession. I was then in my many ways to dictate the policy of the Standard Oil Company. I protested vigorously against the interference."

DENSE ITALIAN STARTS PANIC.

HOW ON PULLMAN, ILL., BANK IS SHORT-LOVED.

Laborers at the Works Endeavor to Get Check Cashed and Misunderstandings Teller's Identification Request—Excited Tale to His Countrymen Causes Mob to Demand Its Money.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive.] An Italian laborer, already of the bank for $30, caused a panic at Pullman today which was checked by the action of the bank in chartering a special train to take the money to the industrial center. Within a few hours eight Pullman and Italian laborers had their savings to the amount of $10,000. The news of the run on the bank quickly through the shops of the Pullman company and the laborers quit their tasks and ran to the bank to demand their money. The laborers of the bank were crowded with men and women struggling to get an entrance and a call for the money had to be turned in before a check could be formed and payments made.

Antonio Andre, a recent arrival from Italy, was the first to be seen at the bank. He drew his money in the form of a check for $25. Shortly after 2 o'clock he presented the check at the bank, when he was informed that it was necessary to bring some one to identify him. Antonio failed to bring the meaning of the teller's words and took it for granted that the money had been paid. He rushed into the street and met a group of his fellow countrymen coming to the bank to deposit their savings. The Italian gathered a crowd of his fellows about him and with an impassioned speech announced that the bank had refused to pay his hard-earned money.

In the crowd of listeners were many of the bank employees as well as those who had money on deposit. The excited throng and the news from home to house that the bank was on the verge of failure, and the news of the foreign quarter were running at the bank, and the bank was running at the bank.

It is not been for the prompt action of the police, the bank employees probably have met with violence. The excited throng and the news from home to house that the bank was on the verge of failure, and the news of the foreign quarter were running at the bank, and the bank was running at the bank.

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—[Exclusive.] The German war games culminated today in a collision between the cavalry and the artillery divisions of "reds" and "blues," in which 10,000 men and 200 quick-firing machine guns took part. The lines extended for five or six miles over a rolling plain.

Emperor William, accompanied by his American and other foreign guests, and attended by a numerous staff, the whole forming a brilliant party of one hundred horsemen, observed the action from elevated ground, from which almost all the surrounding territory could be swept with glasses.

The feature of the German war games as well as the Austrian and French maneuvers, had been the admirable service of automobiles. The German volunteer corps is provided with thirty-seven cars in charge of properly-uniformed drivers, which convey staff officers and umpires to and fro.

The General Staff is showing every courtesy to a large party of German and foreign newspaper correspondents, to whose service Maj. Pross has assigned a special automobile to take them to and from the field.

Two armies, each of about 40,000, began Sunday night the task of working out a theoretical problem of war under the personal supervision of Emperor William.

The location of the various commands and their general objectives have been communicated in confidence to the newspaper correspondents as a key to the operations, but are not for publication until Wednesday. A strong effort is being made to simulate actual conditions of war.

All of the battalions and regiments have been brought to a war footing and the operations will be continuous night and day until the umpires signal their cessation, which probably will be Thursday.

A state of war began Sunday evening and over the historic region associated with the glory of Frederick the Great and the disasters of the Napoleonic period troops are detouring.

Only Five Crack Professionals Surpass Champion's Week's Score.

WINNERS Pacific Coast Handicap, purse $647.50: First money and trophy—Fred B. Mills, Santa Ana, $142.45; second and third money on tie—H. McCullough, Santa Ana and Guy Lovelace, Los Angeles, $103.60 each; fourth money—A. L. Holdesman, Fresno, $71.30; fifth and sixth money on tie—Sam R. Smith, Los Angeles, and Fred Feudner, San Francisco, $58.25 each; seventh money—W. M. Clayton, $52.40; eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh money on tie—L. E. Parker, Long Beach, E. L. Schultz, San Francisco, W. J. Randi and Ray Whitman, $19.40 each.

After outshooting all the amateurs and many professionals from far and near during three days, and maintaining the steady gait which allowed him to pile up a larger general average than any one else except the five best professional shots in the United States, F. B. Mills of Santa Ana won the rich stake and trophy from forty-four contestants in the second Pacific Coast Handicap for amateurs, yesterday afternoon, at the close of the target tournament given by the Interstate Association on the grounds of the Los Angeles Gun Club near Sherman.

Mills was a scratch man at nine ten yards, and his closest competitors were short-distance shooters. The contestants classed with Mills in the handicaps were left far in the rear. Many candidates for Pacific Coast honor started out to make records, but fell by the wayside before the handicap was half over. Not so with Mills. He shot with steady hand and eye throughout, doing no exceptional work at any time, but shooting at one trap and in one event as well as another. His last events were better than his first, showing that he had staying qualities for a strong finish.

Mills broke 99 out of the 100 targets, two ahead of H. McCullough and Guy Lovelace, his nearest competitors, who each had 98. The handicap was a great trial, breaking the last twenty targets without a miss, after getting rather a poor start in the early events. E. E. Shaffer, secretary and manager for the Interstate Association, presented the trophy to Mills before a large crowd of enthusiasts, many of whom were women. The trophy was a magnificent sterling silver bread plate, beautifully engraved and artistically inscribed. Mills was forced to speak to the admiring friends, in response to the presentation speech, which he did with blushing modesty.

CROSBY WINS. Among the professionals, who were placed at the regulation sixteen-yard distance, "Bill" Crosby won, breaking 10 out of the 100. Rollo G. Helms was second with 98, and H. C. Hirschey third with 97. Each shot splendidly. Crosby started out poorly in the preliminary events and allowed Helms to beat him, but he steadied down by the time the handicap came around, broke the bluebirds with clocklike regularity. Helms, however, scored best for the entire day, breaking 123 out of a possible 160, to Crosby's 132 and Hirschey's 151.

The early morning and noon weather was fairly good to shoot in, but in the afternoon a light white drizzle persisted, not only in inducing the pigeons to robbin in their flight, but in picking up all the stray paper, straw and weeds they could gather and throwing them across the line of vision and into the very eyes of the shooters. At times the trap judges had to call a halt in the shooting until one of those miniature cyclones passed by. A brisk breeze during the afternoon aided the targets in their flight, and many times "scared them from straight shooting.

Shooting began with the sky overcast and a haze on the horizon, but conditions rather favored the aim, the fog in the distance forming an even background against which to sight the targets. Toward the middle of the forenoon the wind had shifted to the clouds, and for an hour shooting was rather bad, as the sky was filled with floating, feathery cloud groups which interfered with a good view of the targets. But by noon the sky was clear and the handicap, and but for the

TWO SISTERS GREAT IN TENNIS.

SUTTON SISTERS. Family in straight sets in the challenge match. The victory gives May Sutton a second win in the best of three trophy that she won last year. Southern players are prevented from defending their title in the contest for the Coast championship at San Rafael, but the prestige that the Suttons have added to Southern California tennis in the East by their latest trip is more than made up for by the loss of an off-set to this.

Scattered over two or three acres of ground beyond the traps on the Los Angeles Gun Club grounds repose about fifteen million leaden pellets which were shot from the guns of the contestants during the past three days. Were any one of a thrifty turn of mind he might gather 1,675,635 pounds worth of lead, thus working a veritable lead mine.

Every time a man pulled trigger, 12 shot flew from the mouth of his gun, figuring that No. 7½ shot, were used, although many preferred a smaller size. On the average about twenty-five shots would be fired at each target. The full schedule called for 490 birds for each man if he shot all the events. That would figure up 94,000 shells an ounce and a quarter of shot, giving 12,574 ounces of lead. In each event there are 340 shot, thus showing that 14,574 shot were fired during the meet. To fire the ton and a third of lead, it required 435.5 pounds of shot. That would figure up 94,000 shells an ounce and a quarter of shot, giving 12,574 ounces of lead.

Ammunition alone cost the shooters $93.50, figuring at 60 cents for a box of twenty-five. This would be at the rate of $12.74 per man of money gone up in smoke. If each man entered all the events and paid the entrance fees as scheduled, he would have contributed $49 to the fund, making the cost of entrance fees $4.90. This would make a total cost of $12.74 in prizes the shoot. The club gave added prizes boys got together and shot off a target and out match. Hagerman outlasted the rest and won on seven birds. After the presentation of the trophy, Capt. Tom Marshall delivered an address in behalf of the visiting shooters, and thanked the club and the Los Angeles public for their reception here, and said that all the men hoped to be able to come back for the next shoot.

The total value of the purse and entrance fees in the handicap was $760, but from this was deducted the cost of the prizes, leaving $647.50. The money was divided on the basis of 22, 14, 11, 7, 5, 4, 3 per cent. As there were four men to claim the last three prizes, they had to be split up into four equal parts, making eleven men to come inside the money. The trophy is worth $120, making the total value to the winner about $250. The leading money men were able to pay their expenses and have some left over.

RULER OF CUBA
ONCE AN EXILE.

PALMA'S CAREER MARKED BY MANY NOTABLE CHANGES.

After Imprisonment in Spain He Fled to Return to the Island and Went to New York State Where He Taught School—His Mother Was Tortured to Death.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES
WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Tomás Estrada Palma did not consider it extraordinary that he, a country schoolmaster of New York State, should be transformed suddenly into President of the republic of Cuba. In his own mind, he had been the legal possessor of the high title nearly thirty years before he was installed on May 20, 1902, as the first revolutionary president elected by the Cuban people. He had been a schoolmaster in the United States for ten years. To his peaceful neighbors at Central Valley, where he conducted his school for sixteen years of his waiting period, he said little, but the few who knew his history had heard how he persisted in claiming the office even in the midst of his captivity in a Spanish fortress.

"I am President of the Cuban republic," he had said to his guards, when they demanded his "occupation" in the course of a census at the battlement prison among the Pyrenees in 1878.

His election, therefore, after the Spanish-American War, he looked upon merely as a restoration of his rights. With no special election, though with the modesty that has always characterized him, he leaped out of enforced obscurity into the Havana palace once occupied by the gay lived captains-general of Spain. As if he had been accustomed to the new position in all the decades of retirement he went about the complex task of running a government with as much apparent confidence as he had shown when he established a private academy to tide over his banishment.

Whatever may be the weakness of Tomás Estrada Palma, there is no lack of self-possession in his make-up. And along with this quality, he has skill at organization and industry. That he has combined personal modesty and unfailing politeness with his mental fitness for the office has been no doubt, a supplementary cause of his success in avoiding trouble for so long.

LEADERS WERE SCARCE.
Without understanding his worth, it goes without saying that capable leaders are none too numerous in Cuba.
Even a man of moderate talents was bound to take an important place in the councils of the new nation at the time when Palma gained his foothold.
As he himself once remarked to an interviewer: "There were so few strong men that any one who stepped to the front and assumed command of a group of men was obliged to become a general, quickly."

Yet the career of the republic's President and his personality are of unusual interest.
Few, if any, of his countrymen have passed through more varied adventures, served their cause so continuously and steadfastly, or displayed the consistency that has been his distinguishing trait; none has met with such success or won such popularity.

President Palma was born in 1835 in the province of Bayamo where his father was a rich land owner and cattle raiser. The boy had all the advantages money could give him. He studied under a private teacher at home and finally was sent to Spain to enter the University at Seville. There he was graduated in the law, and it was his intention to become a barrister in Cuba. That he has never achieved this ambition was due to the spread of the revolutionary fury. His return to the island was followed by the martyrdom of his father, who had fought for liberty. His father died, and it devolved upon the young man to manage the estate. The war began.
The Spaniards, besides confiscating his lands, captured his mother and practically tortured her to death.

"They tortured her in an effort to extort from her information she did not possess," he said, in describing his bereavement years afterward, "and then they left her half dead in the woods, where, after wandering for days, she was rescued, too late to save her life."

CASTING HIS LOT WITH THE REVOLUTION-ARIES, giving them what ready money he could raise and fighting with them whenever the chance came, he quickly rose to leadership. He was chosen president of the provisional government.
This government was a migratory establishment, moving its headquarters as often as the enemy made it necessary;
but it was recognized by the natives and the Cubans, and Cuba Libre continued to look upon Palma as its chief, with Gen. Máximo Gómez as his secretary of war.

While on a march with a few troops
Palma was captured by the Spanish captain, Mozo Viejo. Having spent a few days in Morro Castle, Havana, he was sent to Spain where he spent ten months in various prisons, his last stop being in the fortress of Figueras, in the foothills of the Pyrenees. It was there that he again proclaimed himself President of the republic. When they let him go free, in 1878, the ten years' war was over, and Spain had tightened her grip on the island to such an extent that it was useless for him to return.

SEÑOR PALMA is in the first year of his second term as President, having been reelected by the conservatives in the spring of this year. That the radicals have grown strong enough to father even an embryonic revolution against his rule is evidence that his grip on the public favor of the young nation is far less firm than formerly, but if the cable dispatches are to be relied upon, there still remains in the island a majority enthusiastically in his favor. Among the industrial men of that majority, it is recalled, are a number of "schoolmaster Palma's boys"—boys who were trained in the country school at Central Valley and later returned to the land of their birth, all devoted to the interests of the kindly teacher who played the part of father parent to them during their absence from Cuba.

Going! Going! Going!

Stock of the Crescent Furniture Co. Will Soon Be Gone!

Judging by the way things are going at present it will take but a few more days to wind up the business of the Crescent Furniture Company. Shrewd buyers have not been slow to take advantage of the phenomenal values offered during this bankrupt sale. Several proprietors of large rooming-houses have taken advantage of this opportunity to furnish entire rooming-houses. We offer "quality" furniture such as you will find in the best stores in Los Angeles. The reason for this bankrupt sale is simply because the goods are entirely too high priced for a Main-street store. The opportunity is yours—take advantage of it! But act quickly!

Intimate View of Morocco.

There are many evils in Morocco, says Harper's Weekly, but it is not, as many suppose, a lawless country. In case a Christian is robbed or killed the Moorish authorities know that this will be used as evidence to show how loathly the country is governed; they also know that they will be compelled to pay indemnity. Their law to safeguard the travel of Christians is a good one. It is that the Sultan holds his chiefs responsible and will compel them to pay that indemnity. The chief in whose district a crime against a foreigner has occurred displease the Sultan, and his tribe pays dearly for it.

A few years ago a Tangier Jew—under American protection—was killed in the streets of Fez. The American government demanded and received an indemnity. This money, plus commissions, was collected from the shopkeepers in the vicinity of the crime, who had ample time to save the man, but made no effort to do so.

There are elements of good breeding in every Moor, and the average native has a better knowledge of America than the average American of Morocco. He will at least tell you that America is a large country, has railways, and plenty of money.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Jump for Their Lives.
O. S. Gillan and Guy Cassel, drivers of the Hollywood dairy, saved their lives last night about 11 o'clock near Lake Shore drive and Palo Alto streets, by leaping from a wagon a moment before an Edendale car collided with the vehicle. The wagon was demolished and the horse injured. Leaps and Prevents Shooting.

Patrolman Fred Arguello leaped from a Pasadena car running at a high rate of speed along Mission road last night, to prevent F. Ramirez, a shooter, from firing. Ramirez was arrested. The officer overcame Ramirez and sent him to the City Jail on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. Ramirez was booked on the charge of drunkenness.

Jung Bong Juggled.
Jung Bong was arrested last evening after a long chase at No. 108 Turner street and sent to the City Jail on the charge of peddling lottery tickets on the streets. According to the officers, Bong has been watched for some time, but though he sold tickets about the streets for Chinese lotteries, it has been difficult for the officers to secure convincing evidence. Tickets were found on Bong when he was searched at Central Station.

"Queen" Gypsy Vanishes.
Lena Thompson, "queen" of the Arroyo Seco gypsy camp has vanished. Her disappearance is the sequel to the troubles which have disturbed the Romany folk and kept them close to police station for a period of ten days. Her father, and mother told the officers yesterday evening that the gypsies were hiding in the hills. The result of their shrewd business instincts; but those wallings did not materially affect the hearts of the police, who look on the Thompson pair with a pretty good measure of suspicion.

ALFONSO'S COURTIER IN DUEL.

SAN SEBASTIAN (Spain) Sept. 10.—As the result of a violent scene over a trifle at the Hotel Palace, the Marquis Viana, King Alfonso's master of horse, and the Duke of Andria fought a duel with sabers at dawn Sunday morning.

The Marquis received a cut on the forehead and seconds stopped the fight. Previous to the encounter, the Marquis handed his resignation to the King.

The seconds for the Marquis were the Duke of Tovar and Capt. Castro, and those of the Duke of Andria the Duke of Gor and the Marquis Martorelli, all well-known members of King Alfonso's entourage.

CLUBMAN DRINKS POISON IN ERROR.

MISTAKE MADE WHEN VISITING FRIEND IN HOSPITAL.

Becomes Thirsty and Pours Out a Glass of What He Supposed Was Water, Then Swallowing the Deadly Liquid—Antidotes Quickly Administered Save His Life.

R. F. Blinn, a prominent clubman, drank a poisonous disinfectant solution yesterday, mistaking it for water. Prompt administration of antidotes prevented serious consequences.

Blinn was visiting a sick friend in the Dr. O. C. Wellbourne Hospital, when he took the draught that might have ended his life. When he seeks a water carafe in a hospital next time he will probably inquire as to its contents before taking a drink.

The victim of the peculiar accident has for a number of years been a member of the Jonathan Club, having apartments in the club. He visited the hospital to talk with one of his friends who has been ill for some time, but is now convalescent.

While in the hospital, Blinn was taken with a severe thirst. He asked one of the nurses for a glass of water. The nurse was busy at some duty, and was slow in bringing the drink, so Blinn sought water himself.

What appeared to him to be a carafe stood on one of the window seats. He poured out a glass of the clear fluid, swallowed it and in a moment realized that the fluid was far from being water. He called loudly for assistance.

The nurses saw that Blinn had drunk from a vessel containing disinfectant solution. Hospital attendants use the liquid as a handwash to prevent infection after operations or wound dressings. Antidotes and restoratives were administered quickly to Blinn, and by this prompt action he was soon out of danger.

PURSUES PARTY AND FIRES SHOT.

MAN AND TWO WOMEN TAKEN FOR WATERMELON THIEVES.

Rancher Sees Four Men Running From His Ground, and by Mistake Supposes That the Passing Buggy Passengers Are in League With the Supposed Robbers.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

REDLANDS, Sept. 10.—Bert Carmichael and his mother and sister were mistaken for watermelon thieves and fired upon by Joseph Clark, as they were driving past his melon patch on their way from the Drew ranch to their home, Saturday evening.

As the Carmichaels drove along the road near the Clark place, four men ran from the melon patch and started up the road ahead of the carriage. Clark was on guard and shouted to the men to halt. The Carmichaels thought the command was meant for them, and that they were being held up, so they whipped up their horses to escape. Clark pursued the buggy and shot toward the buggy, but failed to score a hit.

The real thieves dashed into Carmichael's yard and escaped.

When Clark saw the women in the buggy he held his fire, and explanations were exchanged. Clark had thought the thieves entered the melon patch and were driving away, until he learned his mistake in time to prevent injury to the occupants.

PLAN NEW WAGON ROAD.

A new wagon road has been checked and surveyed from Seven Oaks to Bear Valley, thus connecting within the near future these two popular resorts of the San Bernardino mountains.

The line checked out runs from Seven Oaks up the Santa Ana Cañon through the headwaters of the San Gabriel, about three miles from Seven Oaks, then to the south slope of the range by a low pass, being 150 feet lower than the present pass over the summit of the trail, and 325 feet lower than the summit of the present road over the mountain from Clark's to Bear Valley.

On the other side of the summit the road follows through a spreading valley with a very light grade, half the way to Bear Valley, scaling the sides of low rolling hills, with no grade more than 10 per cent.

STEEP GRADES AVOIDED.

Next winter the trail is to be opened from Seven Oaks to Bear Valley, along the line just marked out. This road attempts to avoid many of the steep grades of the present trail. The distance between the two points is seven miles. Another feature of the new grade is that it affords some splendid mountain and valley views, and two points the ocean can be seen plainly on clear days. Both Bear Valley and Seven Oaks enjoyed successful seasons this year, being largely patronized by people from Los Angeles and the smaller towns of Southern California, many of whom expect to return next summer. All will appreciate a good road between these two points.

Cooney's Hotel at Ingot was burned Sunday, causing a loss of $3000. Several of the guests were injured, but not badly.

TRAIN TO RUN TO NEVADA'S GOLD; OPPORTUNITY CALLS LOS ANGELES.

BY HARRY C. CARR.

FROM all over the desert, miners are gathering at Beatty, Nev., in the heart of the gold mines, to celebrate the arrival of the first railroad train in the gold country.

Senator Clark has won the race of the railroad magnates. One of his giant Salt Lake engines will go shrieking from Las Vegas through the famous Bullfrog region some day next week.

It will be one of the most picturesque events in the history of the desert. Its importance to Los Angeles seems not to be realized by Los Angeles merchants.

The first train through will signal the beginning of a mining rush such as the world has not seen for half a century. These gold-mad, gold-greedy rushers must be fed from outside points. Although we are nearest at hand, our merchants are falling behind through neglect of the opportunity.

Close at the heels of Senator Clark are two other railroads racing to get into the gold country. Owing to the peculiar location of the Bullfrog the railroad tracks will be at the very mouth of some of the big gold producers.

The toot of the first engine means the death of the old romance of the desert. Already the old freighters are pulling out for new gold camps. The desert mule will soon be a thing of the past. Senator Clark has hold of the stop that reads "Civilization." He has yanked it to the full.

The first brass band to disturb the drowsy desert nap of untold ages will be a feature of this celebration in Beatty.

It will be noted that it is a Salt Lake band; Los Angeles is simply not in this, except for a special train that may be run from out city. We are not awake.

In the little town of Beatty, in a nest of the gold hills, over $300 will be spent on this one day's jubilation. When I came through Beatty two days ago, Senator Clark was rushing in long trains of ties and rails to make a grand-stand finish of the Race of Railroad Magnates.

He would have been into the Bull-

Scenes in the gold fields which the new railroad will reach, and where the "rushers" are expected.

frog region long ago, but for the San Pedro strike, which tied up all building materials.

Tenerfoot tourists will go crazy over this new line. It goes within stone throw of some of the richest mines in Nevada. The country is a chapter from Bret Harte.

For The Times, I traveled over the whole line in stages automobiles, busses and construction trains, two days ago.

It sounds picturesque and wild western, but I'd rather go over in the train with the rubbering tenderfeet.

THE DEMON CHAUFFEUR.

Oh, from a demon chauffeur with the face of an innocent child, good Lord deliver us!

We got him at Goldfield. He drove a big three-seater auto stage that taps the Bullfrog region.

He tolled decorously up through the marvelous pointed hills about Goldfield, where the soil is tinted in exquisite shades of ash of roses, violets and azure. It is like the country of an artist's dream.

When we got to the top of the hill he smiled an innocent, childlike smile, and turned something loose. The auto thing jumped like a deer, and started down the trail like a crazy wild animal. Every time the thing would see a ditch on the way down the mountain, it would prick up its automobile ears and take it at a flying leap.

There were three of us on the back seat. The man in the middle had absent-mindedly neglected to go to bed the night before. He went to sleep, going heaven knows how many miles an hour! At first we feared he would pitch out, and then, as he slept promiscuously over our carcases, we feared he wouldn't. He didn't.

AMAZING RAILROAD.

Down in the middle of the desert, a few miles out of Goldfield, we suddenly came across a railroad straggling over the dull gray landscape. It was an amazing and disillusioning discovery. It was the Bullfrog and Goldfield. It goes out of Goldfield by the old stage road through curious gnarled hills. Supposedly, it is owned by the same magnates who built the Tenopah and Goldfield. For some mysterious reason, they built it a mile out of Goldfield instead of into the town. It is said they wanted to sell out their new townsite so doing.

About twelve miles out of Goldfield

we came across their grading camps—

huts and Fresno scrapers and "cuss" words—the first pickets of civilization.

And after they faded out of sight, we came across three surveyors with their flags and their instruments alone in the vastness of the desert. "Few forgotten and lonely—details guarding the line." They live here for a day, and then word comes of a new strike, and they pack up and hurry on. And the little grave remains behind until the sagebrush and the cacti grow over it and hide it.

One of the stages that left Goldfield a few days ago had a woman of the town for a passenger. Just as she was leaving a German woman, whose face showed that she had been crying, came to the stage and asked the painted woman to stop the stage when she went by a certain place, and plant something on her baby's grave.

"I know it wouldn't do any good," she said, "but it would be sort of company for the baby."

Back of the shack was a tiny new grave fenced in with barrel staves, and one of the people who seemed to live about the place was a sorrowful, silent woman.

The graves of the children who die in the desert are pitiful and appealing. These frontier people live shifting, nomad lives. They live here for a day, and then word comes of a new strike, and they pack up and hurry on. And the little grave remains behind until the sagebrush and the cacti grow over it and hide it.

At noon we stopped at a little shed in the middle of an aching wilderness. Two Swedes who wanted to talk prize fight ran a restaurant there for stage passengers.

TINY DESERT GRAVE.

Back of the shack was a tiny new grave fenced in with barrel staves, and one of the people who seemed to live about the place was a sorrowful, silent woman.

The graves of the children who die in the desert are pitiful and appealing. These frontier people live shifting, nomad lives. They live here for a day, and then word comes of a new strike, and they pack up and hurry on. And the little grave remains behind until the sagebrush and the cacti grow over it and hide it.

One of the stages that left Goldfield a few days ago had a woman of the town for a passenger. Just as she was leaving a German woman, whose face showed that she had been crying, came to the stage and asked the painted woman to stop the stage when she went by a certain place, and plant something on her baby's grave.

"I know it wouldn't do any good," she said, "but it would be sort of company for the baby."

Along the old stage line to Goldfield, Beatty lies.

No one believes that the Clark people are really sincere in this route. It is believed that Sen. Harri—(ahem) Senator Clark really means to absorb the line of the Bullfrog and Goldfield, which is about twelve miles out from Goldfield at present. It is not believed that the Mud Springs route is at all practical.

In any case, however, the road will be continued to Rhyolite, passing the great Montgomery Shoshone mines, and plunging into the midst of the gold producers.

INTERESTING LINE.

We followed the line of this Rhyolite road twice—once by stage and once on foot. It is certainly one of the most interesting railroad in the world. You could almost dump ore from some of the mines on the cars as they stand on the track.

In one place the road has been cut through a great bank between Beatty and Rhyolite and the dirt that has been dumped down the side of the cut is undoubtedly gold ore. This is literally building a railroad through gold country.

The Bullfrog and Goldfield road will also touch Rhyolite by sweeping down the narrow pass and making a wide circle. For ages dirt had been washing down in a long, slow avalanche to make the slant upon which Rhyolite

FOILED "BUG" PLANNED PYRE.

Pyromaniac Designs Death of Many Deliberately.

Quick Work at Ninth-Street Blaze Reveals Much.

Oil-Soaked Stairway Furnishes Clues to Police.

The lives of many persons living in an apartment house at Ninth and Wall streets, and thousands of dollars worth of property in the building were endangered Sunday night by an incendiary. The timely discovery of the blaze by O. G. Payne, a grocer at No. 431 East Ninth street, in the bakery adjoining at No. 429 East Ninth street, fortunately prevented an explosion and undoubtedly saved many from injury if not death.

For twenty-four hours the police have worked diligently on the case, and it was expected last evening that arrests would be made today. Prompt work of the fire department soon eliminated the danger and stayed the fire in time to give the officers many good clues to the identity of the fire bug or "bugs."

The building is located on the north-west corner of Ninth and Wall streets, and the first floor is occupied by several stores, while the remainder of the block is used for an apartment house. In the rear of the bakery owned by Earle Wilde, the pyromaniac set the blaze, and had the three small fires burned a few minutes more an explosion and conflagration would have resulted.

SUSPICIOUS OIL ODOR.

J. Schultz, residing over the store in which the blaze was set, was prompted by his wife to investigate the suspicious smell of oil. He descended the steps and went directly to Payne's grocery store, at the corner. Payne was preparing to retire in the rear of his store, where he and his family live. When Schultz told Payne that the smell of kerosene pervaded the apartments on the second story, Payne dashed toward the rear of his store, believing the big oil-tank was leaking. Finding that there was no leak, Payne and Schultz stood in the rear yard discussing the affair.

A slight smell of smoke was caught by Payne. Hurriedly he assured himself that it was issuing from the bakery, and he called the department. Engine Co. No. 5 responded. The firemen kicked in the doors at the rear of the store, seeking the fire and the source of the escaping gas.

BLAZE UNDER STAIRS.

A large blaze built under a stairway at the rear and directly beneath a gas meter was the first found. From some of the lead pipes leading from the meter jets of gas were burning into the walls, while other pipes were throwing out the explosive mixture. The plaster had been removed from the walls, and the laths had been saturated with coal oil.

In a corner at the rear between two piles of sack flour, a candle placed so that it would fall over into a pile of oil-saturated rags and paper, was next extinguished. The walls there were in the same condition as in the closet. And at the front of the rear room another candle was placed similar to the one in the rear.

From parties living in the vicinity it was learned that Wilde lives in an apartment over his store. It was also said that he had gone out on a trip to the mountains, and had returned last evening. Wilde could not be interviewed, as he was away for several hours, but it is understood he could not give the officers any information which would lead to the apprehension of the guilty parties.

JUST A CHANCE.

"If I had not been up at 10 o'clock Sunday night I guess that the building would have burned," said Payne last evening. "The fire would have made fast headway once it got into the oil-soaked paper and rags. Although I was about the store all evening, I did not hear any one in there, that I remember of, and it seems strange that they could have taken the plaster off the walls, too."

"Had the fire once burst out in the closet below the stairs," said one of those investigating the case, "it would have cut off all avenue of retreat for those living in the apartments above, and they would have been caught like rats in a trap. It is very fortunate that Payne discovered the fire, as it undoubtedly saved a number of persons from being burned to death, and left a clue to the incendiaries."

HIS MOTHER'S PRAYER.

Vagrant Wanderer Picked Up by Police Carries Bible Sent Him After He Left Home.

His mother's Bible, with his mother's written prayer for his good keeping, left Victor Fuller's pocket when he went to jail last night. The desk sergeant's window at the Police Station receives many articles during a day—among them strange things and curious. But the Bible, with its worn cover and the cramped writing on its fly leaf, was out of the ordinary even in this place of unusual things.

Patrolman Banks picked up Fuller on the street. On his own acknowledgment the prisoner might come under the head of vagrants. He had come to Los Angeles by the brake-beam route. He was ragged, dirty and did not look good.

But he had kept the Bible.

"Me mother sent it to me after I left home," he said.

Apparently that is the only reason he kept it. He is otherwise much as other hobos.

The Bible is leather covered—the covers badly worn. But the pages are very clean, only the fly leaf is dirty. It had been often thumbed. And what is written there is worth the reading. A scant fifty words—an uttered prayer that the boy would keep good company and be under God's protection—to quote those words would be the same sort of desecration as it would be were one to publish the heart secrets of their writer.

WOMAN ACCUSED OF THEFT.

Marie Vidal, accused of stealing small sums from letters on the hall table of a rooming house at No. 261 North Main street, was arrested last evening. The woman has for some time been an inmate of the rooming house. Other inmates missed the contents of letters and watched her.

A New Kind of Victor The Victor Victrola

The Ideal Drawing-Room Entertainer

It is the most wonderful of all talking machines. With it you can entertain your guests in such a refined, varied and complete drawing-room entertainment as no other means can supply. The cuts shown here with the instrument open and closed. It is a beautiful cabinet in mahogany—a fitting setting for the finest room—and the wonder of it is that the horn and all moving parts together with a place for One Hundred and Fifty Records is entirely concealed, and by opening or closing the upper doors the music is made loud or soft as desired. THE VICTOR VICTROLA will be offered to the public by us in a few days and in the meantime we shall be glad to furnish full information and cuts to those who are interested. You Must Hear This Instrument, never mind if you don't expect to buy, come hear it, and you will tell your friends and that will repay us. The Victor Victrola will be sold on terms if desired, other instruments taken in exchange. We are wholesale distributors for the ZON-O-PHONE and EDISON and recognized retail headquarters for VICTOR MACHINES and RECORDS. Seventy-five Thousand Records for all Machines are on Hand Subject to Your Order. We make a specialty of filling mail orders. Write us for anything in the music line. they to come from? Are we to go on passing exclusion laws against willing workers and allow our development to be retarded? If we could secure honest white labor to do our work, this matter of oriental labor would appear in a different light. But we cannot obtain it. Are the farmers and fruit raisers of this Coast to let their crops rot in the field or restrict the production simply to pander to the whims of the labor unions.

The blatant sandlottery of Dennis Kearney's time were largely responsible for our present Chinese exclusion laws. Haven't we been handicapped for laborers ever since? When we had more Chinese in California, many an unworked housewife could afford a servant in the kitchen. Now the price of servants is prohibitive except to the rich, and even they are annoyed beyond measure in securing and retaining good domestic help. In common with nearly all my fellow citizens I voted for Chinese exclusion, but I see now that many of us were mistaken. I am not now in favor of Chinese or Japanese exclusion. I think it might be well to restrict the number coming here each year, but not to exclude them.

I am sorry that the Republican State Convention on record as in favor of Japanese exclusion. I don't believe that 25 per cent. of that convention, who employ labor, was in favor of that plank, but we know that politicians have a weakness for applying "mollasses to catch flies."

OPPORTUNITY CALLS.

is built. This Bullfrog-Goldfield road snakes round the hill and stops at the bottom of this wash.

The Borax Smith road is now building from Ludlow on the Santa Fe to the borax mines on the edge of Death Valley, whence it will cross the Amargosa to Beatty, and then up the valley to northern Nevada, probably joining Gould's Western Pacific.

A KIDNAPED TOWN.

Rhyolite is the town that was kidnaped at its birth. Above is one of the little towns in the Bullfrog district.

There was a town named Bonanza further down the hill—a boom town. One day its founders carelessly went away and stayed all day. When they came plodding home in the evening it was to find that rival boom towners had started Rhyolite further up the hill and had enticed every one in the town to leave Bonanza and come to their town.

According to all morals, this kidrush that must take place this fall—a mad avalanche of persons whom food stuffs and provisions must follow—from somewhere.

It fell even in my personal experience to call in congratulation upon a man who had just made a million-dollar strike and to have his grub stake partner ride in with news of another strike still bigger while we sat there talking.

WONDERFUL WELL.

I left on a most dejected stage from the beautiful valley of Beatty and rode to Rose's Wells. It was a ride full of jolts. You had fairly to hang to the sides of the stage.

About eighteen months ago, The Times sent a man through this same desert. This wonderful desert well was just digging then. A tired man was striding away at a windmill bringing dirt to the surface and sometimes a tired digger in wearying—repetition. Men said he would never strike water. But he did and has made a small fortune, selling water. The last station that has sprung into existence along the road lies near these wells.

Valley of the Nevada railroad race.

napped town should not have prospered, but it has—amazingly. From every one of the hills that surround it on three sides come the chug of mining machinery. To the face of every hill cling mining shacks; human moles have kicked out the dirt of their precious warrens from the sides of every one.

Beatty, lying under the shadow of a mountain tinted like a rainbow, is more picturesque and more beautifully located, but Rhyolite has the most ore. It is for this ore that the railroads are rushing in. There is much excited speculation among the mining men as to whether it will be shipped out or reduced in mills established in the district. The general supposition is that the railroads will make rates on ore fuel coming in too high and rates on ore too low to make it profitable to mill it on the ground.

WE DON'T "MAKE GOOD." Alas, it will not come to Los Angeles! Other things ought, however, to go in from this city to feed and clothe the thousands who people the gold country. For some mysterious reason our merchants have not "made good" in that district.

On every hand you hear people say in the gold country that they do not like to do business with Los Angeles because this city seems to take so little interest in developing its trade there. Yet a mining man who came down on the automobile from Goldfield said that he intended shipping his mining machinery from San Francisco by way of San Pedro and so into the desert instead of by way of Reno. Why doesn't he buy his machinery here?

It will soon be a much greater market than it is now. The discoveries being made in Nevada are simply staggering to the belief. Prospectors come in from districts of which you never heard the name before—if indeed they had names—reporting big strikes, sending rubbers scurrying in there like mad.

THEY'RE BOOSTERS.

Far up above Goldfield an exuberant individual met the train and passed cards to every one who ventured off the platform; on the cards were written: "Boosting Wonder—that's all." He said Wonder was nothing but a solid chunk of ore. Came an auto full of miners roaring the praises of Round Mountain, which they pronounced the place where gold was originally invented.

Goldfield lies in a crater of proven mines of enormous wealth. Beatty has a mountain claimed to be full of gold. Death Valley has a golden lure that brought death to twenty-nine people last year—risking their lives for the treasure that is believed to be concealed there.

Were anybody to name these places in public, 500 others would shriek out protests at being neglected. This is merely by way of showing the furious

These outpost stations are funny arrangements. This one of Rose's wells consists of a saloon which has no front and no back, and no sides, and nothing but a tent roof and a refrigerator. A tent restaurant and a tent express office. As the railroad goes on, this kind of station keeps springing up like mushrooms from the ground.

The man who runs this drink emporium is as proud of it as though it were a Broadway saloon with a $50,000 picture on the wall.

BACK TO CIVILIZATION.

It is a queer-looking crowd that populates the train going back to civilization from the desert. One of the passengers in this particular train was a fat Englishman with chop whiskers who had been out buying mines.

Another was a disappointed-looking man of middle age who looked like a bar-keeper. He has made a lucky strike in the sale of a mining claim and was frankly going back to civilization to "blow in" the money.

"I could never rest easy in my grave," he said, "if I was to die and leave any money behind."

When the train stopped at Johnnie Siding, where you take stage for the old Mormon mines at Johnnie and the great new wonderland at Green Water, a howling mob of tip men bore down upon it.

LUCKY PETE.

Every man in the bunch had a bottle which he was waving in the air. Every one was yelling something complimentary to Pete, who stood sheepishly in the middle of the crowd.

"Here's to Pete—the luckiest man who ever came out of Green Water," howled one of the loudest of the bunch.

"Here's to Pete—his working days are over," yelled another.

"Get one of them gasoline bugles and have me to run it," suggested another one from the crowd.

Pete swung on as the train started and he looked a long time at the mountains and a long time back at the crowd. Pete was not drunk like the rest. It was easy to imagine his thoughts as he whirled away on a plush seat from the old desert where he had suffered such bitter privations—that every mountain and every canon that he passed had some recollection for him.

Alas, Pete told me that he had been on the desert for thirty years and had made dozens of big strikes before this. He has a family in San Diego and a handsome home there. For himself he prefers a pair of saggy old overalls and a vest without any coat and a pair of cheap brogans.

He says that his family would like to come out on the desert to live, but he is afraid it might change his way of living.

WOMAN SUES HER GUARDIAN.

Diamonds and Funds of Her Estate Missing?

Accused of Trying to Injure Ward's Good Name.

He and His Friends Declare Charges Groundless.

A bunch of diamonds, a note for $2500 and another for $100, the good name of a young society matron, the mysterious disappearance of wealth from a safe and a wall—these are the features of a suit begun by Mrs. Alicia Horne Clark for the removal of her guardian, Edward G. Canet, and for an award of property by him as guardian of her mother's estate.

Mrs. Clark was formerly one of the part-ners in the Scentious Packing Company, and is a pretty society matron, 27 years old, and the peculiarities of her husband's marriage will make quite a figure in her life.

Alida Horne Clark was a slip of a girl, 18 years old, her father, Henry Horne Clark, died, and she was left an orphan. She was married to Edward G. Canet, a young man, who was a partner in the Scentious Packing Company, and she was a partner in the same company.

On November 17 of last year, the necessary order of removal of her guardian, Alida Horne Clark, was made, and she was married to Edward G. Canet, a young man, who was a partner in the Scentious Packing Company, and she was a partner in the same company.

This image shows a dark, textured vertical strip, likely a book cover or binding. The material appears to be a dark, possibly black or very dark brown, with a fine, vertical ribbed texture. There are visible signs of wear, including some lighter-colored scuffing and discoloration, particularly towards the top and bottom edges. The overall appearance is aged and worn.
